In 2019, GoFundMe permitted and promoted a fundraising project entitled “Fight Back: Protect Abortion Access,” which was launched by Planned Parenthood, National Network of Abortion Funds, and the ACLU. Not only did GoFundMe permit this project, but Rob Solomon, GoFundMe’s CEO at the time, spoke out in support of this “movement” in the statement below:

Reproductive rights are human rights, and GoFundMe is proud to join this movement and work alongside these organizations fighting to protect women all across the country. We encourage business leaders, advocates, and individuals to get involved and stay involved in the ‘Fight Back’ campaign.

Planned Parenthood posted a word of thanks to GoFundMe’s support of their 2019 “Fight Back” campaign: “We’re so thankful to GoFundMe for this extraordinary effort to support Planned Parenthood, alongside our trusted allies working to protect and expand access to abortion care.”
